

QUESTIONS FOR YOUR ROOMMATE

You will be sharing a room, maybe for the first time, with someone this year. It helps to start out on the right foot by getting to know your roommate and talking about needs and preferences. Here are a few questions to get the conversation started.

- How should we decorate the apartment?
- Will it be okay to borrow each other's possessions?
- Who's got the better TV or stereo so we don't end up with doubles?
- How do you like to spend your leisure time? What are your interests?
- What do you need in order to study well?
- What do you need in order to sleep well?
- How do you feel about sharing each other's things? What is off-limits?
- How clean do you want the apartment to be?
- How do you feel about guests/ significant others in the apartment?
